

LLCE2 S4 Anglais – Epreuve de Grammaire et Phonologie (1^{ère} session, mai 2010) :

1/ QCM : choisissez la (ou les) proposition(s) qui convien(nen)t ; 1,5 pt par réponse juste, pénalité de 0,5 pt par réponse fausse, 0 pt par omission. Cochez les cases à l'encre permanente, pas au crayon. Le signe Ø = vide

They spent all week to save save saving pennies and went out Saturdays to spend fifty bucks in three hours. Remi was wearing wore wared shorts around through along the shack, with a crazy Army cap on his head. Lee Ann went around with her hair up in pincurls. Thus attired, they yelled at each other all week. I never saw so many snarls in all my born days. But on Saturday night, graciously smiling at each other smiling graciously at each other smiling at each other graciously they took on away off like a pair of successful Hollywood characters and went on the town. Remi woke up and saw me come about off in the window.

His great laugh, one of the greatest laughs in the world, dinned in my ear. 'Aaaah Paradise, he comes came has been coming in through the windows (because) he will follow follows has followed instructions to a T.' [...]. I had just come through the little fishing village of Sausalito and the first thing I said have said was saying was 'There shall ought to must be a lot of Italians in Sausalito'.

Extrait de Jack KEROUAC, 1957 (éd. 1986). On the Road. New York : Penguin, pp. 60.

2/ a/ indiquez les accents (de mot) primaires de la phrase ci-dessous (2,5 pts)

b/ indiquez l'intonation de la phrase ci-dessous par des symboles phonétiques

Is this fantastic laundrette Bulgarian ?